INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

Q1	Tell me about yourself, the experiences that have helped you grow, and why you are interested in this opportunity. Looking for: a focused 60–90 second professional summary. Strong answers move present, past, and future: what you do now, the experience that built you, why this role is the next step. Watch for: rambling life history, overly personal or medical detail, no connection to the position.	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q2	Why are you interested in this position, and what strengths would you bring to the team? Looking for: evidence the candidate researched the organization, plus one concrete strength backed by an example. Watch for: generic flattery, "I need a job," or value claims with nothing behind them.	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q3	What is one skill you would like to improve, and what are you doing—or planning to do—to get better at it? Looking for: an honest growth area that is not core to the job, with most of the answer spent on the action being taken, a class, a mentor, deliberate practice. Watch for: "I'm a perfectionist," a weakness that would disqualify them, or naming a gap with no plan.	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q4	What would you like to accomplish during the next three (3) to five (5) years, and how could this position help you move toward those goals? Looking for: clear direction that lives inside this role and company, growing depth, earning more responsibility. Watch for: personal goals instead of career goals, aiming so high it signals a short stay, or so low it signals no initiative	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q5	What pay range would you consider fair for this position based on the job responsibilities, the posted pay range, and the skills and strengths you would bring to the role? Looking for: a researched range rather than a single number, tied to what the candidate brings. Watch for: "whatever you offer" (reads as desperate), no idea of market rate, or leading with pay before fit.	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q6	Tell me about a time a job, class, activity, team, or other commitment ended or changed. How did you handle the transition, and what did you learn from it? Looking for: brief, honest, forward-looking framing, moving toward something, not running from something. If a mistake was made, ownership and a lesson. Watch for: criticizing a former employer, boss, or coworker; anger or resentment; anything a reference check would contradict.	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q7	Tell me about a challenge or disagreement you experienced at work, school, training, on a team, or in another group. What did you do, and what was the outcome? Looking for: STAR structure, an objective description that includes the other person's view, the reasoning behind the action taken, and a stated outcome plus lesson. Watch for: assigning all blame, accepting none, or a story with no resolution.	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q8	Tell me about an accomplishment or project you are proud of. What did you do, and why was the result important? Looking for: STAR plus numbers, percentages, dollars, time saved, people served. The impact is the half most candidates skip. Watch for: describing duties instead of results, or credit that belongs to the team claimed alone.	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q9	What motivates you to do your best? Tell me about a time you stayed committed when something became difficult. Looking for: genuine drivers (solving problems, serving customers, hitting a team goal) and one real example of pushing through a hard stretch. Watch for: "money," a rehearsed non-answer, or no evidence of resilience.	Score 1-5

COMMENTS:

Q10	What questions do you have for us about the position, training, team, workplace, or what it takes to be successful? Looking for: three (3) to four (4) researched questions about the role, the team, or success in the first 90 days. Watch for: "No, I think you covered it;" only self-serving questions about pay or time off; raising schedule or childcare conflicts this early	Score 1-5

BEFORE NEXT INTERVIEW PREPARATION FOR NEXT INTERVIEW

ACA staff must review and discuss the areas identified for improvement and recommended focus areas checked above, with the participant. The ACA must provide individualized activities, resources, and support to assist the participant in meeting the certification criteria. The ACA must meet with the participant at least every 30 days to assess progress and determine whether the participant has met the required criteria.

All steps, activities, and resources provided to support the participant in meeting certification requirements must be documented in the participant's Individual Service Strategy (ISS) and case notes.

Once the ACA determines that the participant has met all certification criteria, the ACA will reschedule the participant for a new interview.

Reasons for not meeting the minimum requirements, and any corrective services, must be documented in the participant's ISS and case notes.
